TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. TYLER & CO.,

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding Coffee,)

141 WASHINGTON STREET BOSTON,

Supply the best, freshest and purest articles, at the lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar, Pearlash, Concentrated or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely on having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. TYLER & CO." To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5lb. Pouchong Tea, 1,00 | 5lbs. Rio Coffee, 1,00
5lb. Oolong Tea, 1,00 | 5lbs. Java Coffee, 1,50
5lb. Hyson Tea, 2,50 | 5lbs. good Coffee, 1,00

Ten Spices are put up in 1 and 1 lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, as I only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of consumers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction! It is prepared with particular care and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lbs. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

PARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root. This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in the country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the genuine article. The proportion used is about one half the quantity of coffee. The price is 25 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation for all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues[illegible], can be joined with coffee or tea, to suit the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians, to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious, beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.

Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

To Grocers and Dealers, a LIBERAL discount in trade, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rates.

TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object in going to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do a business on the credit system, and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock, and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

LET THE STRAIGHT WHIGS REMEMBER.

That the Gallup Journal, while keeping a list of "White republicans" for Electors in its columns, is nearly IN FAVOR OF JAMES BUCHANAN for the Presidency, although it refuses to put up his name.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE, THAT NO ONE BORDER RUFFIAN—NO ONE PRO-SLAVERY MAN—HAS BEEN PUNISHED IN KANSAS FOR CRIMES COMMITTED AGAINST FREE STATE MEN, WHILE THE JAIL AT LECOMPTON IS FULL OF FREE STATE VICTIMS ARRESTED BY ORDER OF GOV. GEARY.

The Declaration of Independence Repudiated.

AMERICAN PATRIOTS! Read what was said at Hamilton, Ohio, only three weeks ago, by JOHN C. BRECKENRIDGE, the Buchanan candidate for Vice President.

"Look at the principles of this party (the Republican). Listen to the taunting and reviling which they combine to hurl at our sister States. We are told that the Declaration of Independence is embodied in the Constitution of the United States! The Declaration is an abstraction. Put into the Constitution and what would follow? It would follow that the Constitution must protect every man in his right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness! * * * YOU WOULD FIND IT INTERFERING WITH THE INSTITUTIONS OF THE STATES, and it would lead our country rapidly to destruction. But why do I speculate upon what it would do? Long before this our Union would be obliterated. Therefore it would become as INTOLERABLE AND HATEFUL, as its past has been beneficient and glorious."

What the South Demands.

The N. O. Delta makes the following demand for the South, which the supporters of James Buchanan in this section will please make a note of.

"But what we demand is that—AS SLAVERY IS NATIONAL AND NOT SECTIONAL, CONSTITUTIONAL AND LAWFUL AND JUST AND NOT A SIN EITHER BEFORE GOD OR MAN—the South, as a slave holding country, should have ample room and verge enough, to grow her growth and work out her natural destiny, and that all constitutional and legitimate FACILITIES should be afforded towards effecting those objects."

Pennsylvania Election.

New York, Oct. 25. A despatch from the editor of the Philadelphia Bulletin states that the full votes in Pennsylvania for Congressmen shows a majority for the opposition over the Buchanan electoral ticket of 1240.

Henry Clay on the right to carry Slaves into the Territories.

The name of Henry Clay, as well as that of Daniel Webster, is brought forward to support the doctrines of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise and the right of slaveholders to carry their slaves into the Territories. This is a shameful abuse of the memory of both. Mr. Webster has distinctly said that he would never consent that there should be one foot of slave territory beyond what the old thirteen States had at the formation of the Union. This was said in each of Mr. Webster's last speeches. Equally strong and on the same side, was Henry Clay. In his speech on the Compromise bill, July 22d, 1850, he said:

"The Constitution is an aggregate of certain powers. No power is granted, except it is expressly delegated, or when it is necessary and proper to carry into effect a delegated power. And if, in any instance, IT IS FOUND TO CARRY SLAVES INTO THE TERRITORIES IS GUARANTIED TO THEM BY THE CONSTITUTION, I HAVE NEVER BEEN ABLE TO PERCEIVE IT. Amid all the vicissitudes of public life, and amid all the changes and turns of party, I have never in my life deviated from those great and fundamental acts. I think, independently true principles of interpreting the Constitution of the United States. Take those principles to be true, and where is the power—can any body point to it—by which you have a right to carry your slaves to California (as a Territory)? (Where is the delegated power, or the power to which it is auxiliary as a necessary implication?) It is nowhere to be found. You must resort to some such general principles as the Federalists did in the early history of this country, when they contended for the doctrine of the general welfare. But you cannot put upon episodes in that part of the Constitution which conveys the limited POWER TO CARRY SLAVES FROM one of the States of the Union to any Territory of the United States."

And now we are told to support the administration, to vote for James Buchanan, for the Cincinnati platform, on the ground of standing by the principles of Clay and Webster!

The following which a correspondent sends us is not a bad illustration of what small minds call politics:

The question has often been quoted of the propriety of woman's attending the polls—but there was one woman in Maine, who settled so forcibly and unanswerably, at our late State election. A young Republican who was rejoicing in the opportunity of throwing a vote for Freedom for the first time, was refused at the polls by Democratic watchers, on the ground that she was a minor. He returned home quite chagrined and told his mother that they would not believe him, when he told them he was twenty-one. "Put the horses into the wagon" said she. He did, and she rode to the ballot box with him, and told the men who held it that she was a proper judge of his age, and he was twenty years old. They dared not refuse his vote after that.

A Suspension Bridge is to be built across the Mississippi at St. Louis, to be eighty-four feet above high water mark, and more than a mile in length. The greatest distance between towers will be 1800 feet, and the foundation of each of the towers will be 50 feet below the surface of low water. Mr. J. W. Bissel of Rock island, N. Y., has received the appointment of engineer. The bridge is expected not to cost more than two millions of dollars.

The Republican Torch-light Procession in Boston, to-morrow evening, will be a splendid affair. The procession is to be escorted by a cavalcade of 1,000 from Boston and surrounding towns. In the procession will be carried a series of seventy-five brilliant historical transparent tableaux, designed and painted by Billings, representing many interesting and stirring events in the history of Kansas and of the country at large.

Cassius M. Clay, in a speech at Chicago a few days since declared, from his own observation, that while men can and do labor in the cotton fields, and that in Texas here is a German settlement, where they produce one-third more from an acre of cotton than the slaves do.

Mr. Editor:—When the Journal published a call for a Levee to aid Kansas, a clergyman of this city called on the Editor to enquire what the friends intended about the matter. He told the editor that he did not feel bound by party spirit in the matter at all, and that any aid for Kansas raised in good faith, would have his co operation. The Editor of the Journal frankly told the clergyman, that the whole matter was only a button hole on the other Levee, got up by the Republicans. Now this is well to have this fact known, for I am much mistaken if some innocent people did not attend that Levee, really thinking that funds for Kansas were to be raised by it—and I suppose too, that the Journal intends to make sensible, right people believe, that their party really feel sympathy for the wrongs perpetrated upon them, against Freedom and Humanity.

How Indiana was Subjugated.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 16, 1856.

The Border Ruffians have invaded Indiana. They were brought up like cattle in Kentucky, Mississippi and Illinois, and transported to the different counties of this State to carry our election. They did it. The Black Democracy elected their State ticket by some 5,000 majority, and have also a majority in the lower house of the Legislature. The Senate is Republican, and when our Black Democracy get two Border Ruffian United States Senators from this State, then put Indiana down as hostile to Freedom—not before! Talk of Kansas! Indiana is a second Kansas. The example of Atchison was contagious. His successor as President of the Sons of caught it, the Senator Bright became our Atchison. He was the Catiline who furnished the funds, perfected the conspiracy, and organized the invasion.

On analyzing the election returns already in, it is clearly proved that a majority of not less than 6,000 of the voters of Indiana are in favor of and voted for Republican principles. It is also certain that 10,000 citizens of border States were imported into Indiana and stole our liberties, as their equally infamous brethren stole the liberties of Kansas.

The Bangor Light Infantry have fitted up in an elegant manner, the rooms formerly occupied by the Bangor Journal, in Mercantile square, and last evening they received their friends and served up an excellent chowder, which was got up by themselves, assisted by Mr. Johnson.

At the close of the collation the company testified their respect for Geo. W. Pickering, Esq., one of their guests, by three hearty cheers, which were responded to by Mr. Pickering in some very happy and appropriate remarks.

The reception room on the second floor is elegantly fitted up with carpet, sofas, mirrors, &c., and the armory overhead has all been completed. We are pleased to learn that the company now stand upon as firm a footing as ever before and it is to see that its members among its members many of the young men of our city.

The Ladies' Kansas Aid Society.

MR. EDITOR:—As one of those interested in the Kansas Aid Association just formed by the women of Bangor, I beg the favor of a small space in your columns to give some explanation of the views and intentions of those who have been most active in organizing this society. Many of our citizens had the gratification of listening last week to the plain statement, but most interesting tale, from the lips of Dr. Cutter himself, of what he had seen and experienced during his journey to Kansas, and his residence there. Many of our ladies listened to Mrs. Cutter's touching story of her trials, hardships and perils, during the same journey—her experience within the desolate cabins of Kansas, and her brave encounter of fear of dangers on her return to St. Louis—to such as did not listen, it is only necessary to give any further explanation as to the object of this society, but to those who [illegible] the privilege of hearing either Dr. or Mrs. Cutter, I would say that the story of the wrongs and suffering of our frozen Kansas brethren—it is burnt into our hearts and consciences, not to be effaced by the very Press! where there is no press.

We have the fullest testimony of reliable persons to the truth of this as well as of strangers who have themselves seen and shared the bitterness of these privations, that large numbers of the men, women and children of Kansas are in a state of destitution bordering on starvation and nakedness—they have not either robbed of their all by the Border Ruffians, or prevented from earning a subsistence by the necessity of fighting for their lives. They have no idea of leaving their desolated homes in the condition they have not the means of doing so if they would. Shall we not do something towards relieving their necessities? Is there a man among us so cold as not to respond to the cry of the hungry and the naked? To such we are willing to give to this special object we would say, that all you will contribute should be applied in the manner you may desire.

But there are others among us whose hearts bear responsive to the cause of freedom everywhere. We want Kansas to be free. We are willing to work for those who are ready to give their means in order to make it free. We invite such to co-operate with us in making up warm and substantial clothing for those brave men of Maine who propose to go out to Kansas to find a home, and to assist in promoting the free State cause. If such be their object, that our object is two-fold—to relieve the sufferings already there, and also to encourage those who wish to go out there to live. Come one and all with warm hearts and nimble fingers, let us see how large a box of clothing we can prepare before the 4th of November, which time some supplies will be forwarded to join the large train that will start from town the 10th of November.

Women who understand the putting together of such garments, and those who will present themselves with a Sewing Machine, will be doubly welcome, but the smallest favors will be gratefully received.

C.

JOHNSON'S HALL. We desire to call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Exhibition illustrating the "Trial of Our Saviour," which is to open at the above named Hall on Wednesday. It comes to us highly recommended by the press, as well as by some of the most distinguished clergymen in Maine, as our readers will see by the "Boston Art Mirror" which will be left at every house. We hope our citizens will find time among the bustle of politics to visit this popular exhibition. The following testimonials we observed:

RICKLAND, Aug. 18, 1855.

Having had an opportunity to examine the group of Wax Statuary, illustrating the "Trial of Our Savior," we would heartily commend it to the attention and patronage of our citizens, which a work of so much merit deserves.

A Tale of the Schooner Polly Ann.

WITH A MORAL TO IT.

Dodge's Musical Journal gives the following story, which may possibly have a political application, he says, that the North will be perfectly safe in standing by the constitutional rights of freedom:

A few years ago Captain B., of Provincetown, Cape Cod, Mass., loaded his leaky little schooner "Polly Ann" with shingles at Gardiner, on the Kennebec, Maine, and sailed with the morning tide for Charlestown, South Carolina, where in due time he arrived safely and disposed of his cargo to a good advantage to the builders of that city.

He now, for return freight, took in a load of cotton for the Lowell Mills, and with one passenger, a fair looking lad, and a jolly young crew sailed for Boston.

On the third day out, he crew heard an unearthly howl harrowing agonizing howl, or groan proceed from the hold—and though somewhat the victims of superstition, as most sailors are, their humanity got the better of their fears, they at once opened the hatchway and brought to light and fresh air, a stalwart, though half-starved and starved negro, who had, therefore scarcely stowed himself, hoping thereby to gain a free passage to freedom.

As the negro was brought upon deck, the single passenger—a wealthy planter, residing near Charleston—was enjoying his after dinner cigar, and recognizing the object being before him as the slave of an old friend, he exclaimed in pleasantest and gentlest native tones—"Jake, you infernal rascal! what you Jon Brown's niggar?"

"Well, I was, massa," replied the trembling colored man, "but day before I cum off Chu'ston Maker Brown sells my wife and chile to de slave trader, who taken on to de sout for de sugar fields, and Massa Brown knocks me with a club and kicks me, 'cause I cries so 'dat I couldn't work. So I just hides myself in de cotton down in the ship, as I 'spect go North where I won't be any more whipped for having a soul."

The slight tone of sarcasm in the closing sentence aroused the indignation of the planter, and he attempted to kick the poor negro for his impudence, but the good natured though Herculean mate interfered, with the suggestion that there had never been a stowaway on board the "Polly Ann," and I without the Captain's positive order, (nothing of the kind could for a moment be thought of.)

Proceeding at once to the cabin the planter gave vent to his feelings to the good natured and unperturbable captain, to which Captain B. said—"If you don't like to give the nigger back, just keep him and work him along here on board my vessel, and I'll demand in the name of the Constitution and Southern rights, that you immediately depart and return to Charleston."

The Captain coolly and deliberately took from his mouth a half-smoked Havana, puffed at his excited passenger through the gray curling cloud of smoke gracefully floating above the cabin and replied—"you are unduly excited my dear boy, let us talk this matter over."

"I won't talk the matter over," exclaimed the planter, "I only ask for the rights of the South, and those rights I will have."

"But, say the captain, you are now three days out, and as it is best for us to discuss the subject a little before deciding to lose six days sail in fair wind and our own self respect, for the sake of settling your selfish matter to trade and command wherever you are going, to return a poor unfortunate black man to a life bondage of cruelty and oppression."

Perfectly thunderstruck at the captain's coolness and audacity to speak of Southern rights by "an abolition nigger," the planter sprang to his feet, seized a pistol in one hand and a bowie-knife in the other, stalked to and fro through the cabin a number of times, and suddenly halting in front of the captain—who had resumed his smoking—exclaimed in thunder tones—"Sir!"

"Did you wish to resume the discussion about the Negro?" inquired the captain, offering his passenger a cigar, and puffing to the smouldering ashes.

"This is no discussion sir!" exclaimed the planter, "I came not here to discuss, but to demand Southern Rights, and by all the powers of Heaven and Hell, I'll have them or my life."

"Then I'm done with you forever."

"Let us discuss those rights first," replied captain B., "for you are not prepared a little exercise, brother."

"Don't bother me!" exclaimed the irritated passenger, "I am not for one man who will not give me my rights without discussion, and I now give you fair warning that unless you steer ship and start on Charleston within eight hours from this time, you shall be debarred from my further society, co-operation and society in this vessel."

Having thus discharged lime from his overcharged eloquence and spirits, the planter returned to the quarter deck to devise means for a conference with the Yankee captain.

The next morning, at the break of day on coming on deck the captain was not a little surprised and amused on noticing that the planter had seated himself in the yawl at the stern of the schooner, and, by the aid of the tackling, rope had lowered her to the water's edge, and was now being drawn along by the rope—some thirty feet in length—astern of the schooner's pitter.

On meeting the captain, the planter, suddenly rose from his recumbent position, spitting to the bow of the fattering Dutch fowl—for the race was by the very sound characteristic of a small craft,—drew from his bosom the glittering bowie-knife, and exclaimed—"I swear to—" but one blow of the shining steel to never forever the operation now bound that I say that you will accede to my proposition made yesterday, and that by no shall not be given—I must close action effects, and the sinful conscience sending with it the horror, shall rest upon your head—Speak the word quickly, Captain B., or his knife falls."

The captain deliberately seated himself on a camp-stool, lighted a cigar, and commenced making an astronomical calculations for the day—and when the bell rang for breakfast—the dear meaning increasing with the wind—the passenger, begged like a trooper to assistance to hoist the yawl; for like an old salt reputation, he has found it much easier to lower than to raise it.

Being an exceedingly timid man myself, it has always seemed strange to us that the captain did not at once make the required pie-pies—but there are those who see in the captain "Uncle Sam," said in the planter a State's right as loudly of "dissolution," and these men declare that the planter never for a moment intended to cut the rope, and that the "Polly Ann" would have sunk if he had.—Dodge's Musical Journal.

SPIRITUALISM. Mrs. Conn of New York, who has great reputation as a medium among the "Spiritualists," is advertised to give some of her wonderful demonstrations at City Hall, on Wednesday evening, October 29th. To show the nature of the alleged spiritual demonstrations, we copy the following from the Chicago Journal:

A committee of three were selected to sit upon the stand and propose questions to the medium. Each in turn wrote several names upon billets, and laid them folded upon the table. On inquiry by the medium, whether the spirits whose names were written on the paper were present, an affirmative answer was given to five of them by three raps apparently upon the wall behind the medium, so loud as to be perfectly audible to every one in the hall. Of 22 questions asked by the committee, concerning the age, place of residence, &c., of deceased friends with whom they had been acquainted, 20 were answered correctly, as announced by the committee, and one of those, the answer of which was unknown at the time, has since been ascertained to have been correct. The medium in each case wrote out correctly the names of those in the folded billets, which had been so mixed that the committee were ignorant of the names till the papers were opened, showing that their minds could not have influenced hers. Mrs. Conn seems to be in a perfectly normal state, and wrote the names with great rapidity, from right to left and bottom upwards, as if a person stood before her, taking her hand in his and moving it at his will.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 27.

The Santa Fe Mail arrived at Independence on the 23d inst. The news is unimportant. Business had been dull. The election which took place on the Monday of Sept., resulted in a Democratic majority in both houses.—Gen. Garland and Major Brooks were about ready to start.

RICHMOND, Oct. 27.

Bonham city Jews.—An intelligent writer in the North American Review supposes that the total of immigrants has increased more rapidly in this country than the Hebrews. In 1850, there might count upon his fingers all the Synagogues in the land; now there are at least a dozen of a million Jews, from eighty to eighty Synagogues, and a multitude of smaller congregations where a nucleus exists which will soon grow into a Synagogue. The city of New York alone has twenty Synagogues and thirty thousand Jews; about one-twentieth part of the population being such. There are Synagogues in all the chief cities of the seaboard—two in Boston, five in Baltimore, three in New Orleans, two in Charleston, and four in Cincinnati.

Brig Mary Jane, arrived at Boston, with the wreck of schr Batavia, Pendleton, of Searsport, from St. John, N. B., for Boston, loaded with lumber, waterlogged, dismasted, sails and rigging alongside. When the crew first came in tow there was a dead body on deck, but it was probably washed off during the night. The Captain, crew, and only passenger had been previously taken off by another steamer.

Accident to Martin Van Buren.—Valatie, N. Y. Oct. 25.—Ex-President Van Buren, and his son Smith Van Buren, were thrown from their carriage yesterday, in consequence of the horses taking fright. The ex-President had his arm broken. It is said was but slightly injured.

Explosion of a Lamp.—Philadelphia, Oct. A camphene lamp exploded last night, in the house of Mr. Richard Moore, in consequence of which Mr. Moore, his wife, and their five children were so shockingly burned by their clothes taking fire, that three of the children have since died, and the two others are not expected to live. Mr. and Mrs. M. may possibly recover.

Accident to Judge McLean.—A serious accident occurred to Judge McLean a few days since, by the upsetting of an omnibus at Cliffton, Ohio. His right ear was almost cut in two, and he was severely bruised about the head and neck. The accident will detain him from judicial duties for a week or two.

Sweet Potatoes.—Lev. Howard, one of our subscribers in Berlin, informs us that, in carrying the potatoes he found one that we should call two pounds and one ounce, and another that reached three pounds and three ounces.—Worcester Spy.

How Buchanan's Governor of Kansas Manages.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune says:

Gov. Geary keeps a most watchful eye on emigration from the Free States. As the Border Ruffians have practically made the navigation of the Missouri River unsafe for Free State emigrants to the Territory the Governor has kept the greater part of his force of dragoons scouring the country in that direction.

The North Missouri Railroad is finished and hedged out of Kansas by the Border Ruffians on the Missouri River, and Geary and his dragoons on the North. That the Governor's sentinels, about "armed intervention" are not equally acute at all points, I will mention that a company from Mississippi, of some twenty-two young men, armed to the teeth, enrolled as a military company, not a woman with them, and not a vestige of peaceable or industrious intentions, arrived at Lecompton a week ago. They presented themselves in this guise in the very august vice-regal palace of shoddy, and every night last week their arms were stacked in front of their barracks, while their sentry kept his martial tread under the omniscient Excellency's great nose. The company came in a guise in which no Free-State party ever entered the Territory, and every evening last week any person about Lecompton who was not deaf could have heard them swearing about what they were going to do to those Abolitionists." Such is the state of affairs at Lecompton, while counter-artillerie quarion and dragoon after dragoon is despatched to the northern frontier, to "stop" the Free State "armed immigration," no considerable portion of which is travelling families. Besides all this, Gov. Geary has just permitted a mob-like invasion armed of nearly three thousand Missourians to invade the ballot-boxes and elect a Legislature.

From the New York Times.

Quiet Development! A New Plot of the Pro-Slavery Democracy.

Our readers will find in another column a curious development of election plots and counter plots that are said to be going on between the Fillmore and Buchanan men.

The great end and aim of the friends of Mr. Fillmore, as everybody knows, is to defeat an election by the people, and get his name into the House of Representatives as a second choice. For this purpose they have been bargaining with the Buchanan men, agreeing to aid him in States where they are weak, by running a Fillmore ticket, on condition that he shall aid them in States where they are strong. In this way they hope to give him electoral votes from two or three States,—just enough to carry his name into the House.

But if our correspondent's statements are reliable, the Democrats don't intend to leave any such side-door open for Mr. Fillmore. They have no objection to using him and his friends in Pennsylvania for the purpose of aiding Mr. Buchanan. But if Mr. Fillmore should carry two of those States, in consequence of such a arrangement they have the axe of trumpet in their sleeve, and intend to play it.

The Constitution provides that if no President is chosen by the people then "from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three, on the list of those voted for by the electors as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot the President." How the electors of any State may vote cannot be publicly known if they choose to conceal it, until the sealed package containing their votes is opened by the President of the Senate. If it should turn out, therefore, when those packages are opened that the electors of four or five Southern States cast their votes or some new democrat, —Douglas, or Wise, or Johnson Davis,—his name will go into the list as the third candidate, and Mr Fillmore will be ruled out. The balance of power will thus be transferred from the Fillmore men to the fire-eating section of the Democracy, and with such a card in their hands they can negotiate an easy victory.

This is the astounding new chess game of the campaign thus far.

Look at This.

The subscriber wishes to inform all want of a LARGE PICTURE, that his facilities (as well as Pictures) are unsurpassed in this city, as he will copy one all who will take the trouble to call and examine a large variety of Specimens.

JOHN CHARLES FREMONT would doubtless have given the world for a bottle of Mrs. M. N. Who has not felt the annoyance, and who in our climate does not know and feel the importance of proper remedies for such evils. Sold by Wood & Perkins, General Agents, and by all Druggists, Agents, Boston, and the medicine which Fremont so much highly extols.
